Agenda Item 6.B
Review criteria

- Policy 4.1.3 of the Regional Plan identifies six factors that the RPC must consider when evaluating the conformance of an amendment to a master plan or a project of regional significance:
  1) Regional form and pattern,
  2) Development constraints,
  3) Infill, housing and jobs/housing balance,
  4) Public services and infrastructure,
  5) Military installations, and
  6) Cumulative and indirect effects
I move to find the Buck Drive amendment to the Washoe County Master Plan in conformance with the 2012 Truckee Meadows Regional Plan, based on the finding listed in the staff report.
